

Rural GCE project begins testing an online learning platform for adult education in Global Citizen Education

As the project Training Material for Global Citizenship Education (GCE) in Rural Areas approaches its end, the partner - organizations from 6 European countries – the UK, Greece, Bulgaria, Cyprus, Spain and the Netherlands begin the final step in the implementation of the project activities.

The project aims to provide better opportunities and materials to the educators that are implementing activities in this field of education in rural areas, thus contributing towards an easier approach and reach of the process of citizens participation, specifically in rural areas within Europe, were achieved by creating an extensive Handbook and an online learning platform, where the educational materials are available free of charge.

One of the final steps before the official launching of the online platform is its pilot testing. Each of the partners will organize a physical or online event with the target group, where the platform will be presented and the participants will be asked to register in it and test it. The collected valuable feedback from these events will contribute to the improvement and finalisation of the Rural GCE online learning platform.
